MUNDSEN REACHES THE BOTTOM OF THE WORLD.

Report That Scott Has Succeeded Is Now Doubted in London.

Cook and Peary Wrangle Hinted at by English Papers on Receipt of Cable from Hardy Norwegian Explorer That He Attained Goal December 14-17—Shack- leton Says Both May Have Met at Coveted Spot.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHRISTIANIA, March 7.—[Exclu- sive Dispatch.] The following tel- egram has been received from Hol- land: "Pole attained 14th-17th December, 1911. All well." [Signed]

"ROALD AMUNDSEN." TELLS OF HARDSHIPS. [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] LONDON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Roald Amundsen, accord- ing to news received here last night, has discovered the South Pole.

This cablegram says he attained the point farthest south between the 14th and 17th of December, 1911.

The cable further tells of hardships endured by himself and his associates similar to those described by Cook and Peary, but Amundsen declares def- initely he has planted the flag of his country at the point farthest south.

The English press is disposed to receive his announcement with re- serve. This is due to the statement cabled early yesterday that Amund- sen reached the South Pole.

Commenting on the early dispatch quoting Amundsen as saying that Scott had reached the pole, the Eng- lish press is very cautious.

The Standard says: "There's doubt as to the authenticity of precise mes- saging of Amundsen's dispatch announc- ing a British triumph."

The Daily News says: "Until there's more to go upon the South Pole is still unoccupied."

The Morning Leader says: "There are some perplexing facts about Amundsen's report."

The Daily Graphic says: "It would be affectation to pretend we don't hope the prize has fallen to our countryman, but, however that may be, Amundsen will at least have a share in the triumph."

SHACKLETON'S COMMENTS. The Chronicle publishes an article from Capt. Shackleton on Amundsen's achievement, saying:

"Analysing somewhat the brief cable announcing Amundsen's attain- ment of the South Pole, one from previous experience would assume the journey was done in extreme rapidity and under very favorable conditions as regards weather, assuming that the latitude of Amundsen's winter quar- ters was 78°44'. That is only 676 geographical miles from the pole.

This place was reached by the Scottish ship, the Terra Nova, on November 23, 1910. He was well equipped under the direction of the Royal Geographical Society. At that time he attained a record of 82 deg., 50 min., which remained the record up to the time of Lieut. Shackleton's noted exploit, on November 23, 1910. He attained a record of 82 deg., 50 min., which remained the record up to the time of Lieut. Shackleton's noted exploit, on November 23, 1910. He attained a record of 82 deg., 50 min., which remained the record up to the time of Lieut. Shackleton's noted exploit, on November 23, 1910.

LONG TRIP RETURNING. Continuing Shackleton says that if Amundsen left the pole December 17 he would, very likely, with a fair wind behind him, return to winter quarters in about forty-five days.

"We then assume," continued the explorer, "that Amundsen had reached the Bay of Wales at the end of Jan- uary. He would take two or three days loading and getting under way with the Fram and would then pre- sumably go north and work to west- ward of Cape Adare, then get into western waters and make Hobart. The Fram being a slow vessel, doing about five knots, would take a month unless strong winds were behind her, to reach Hobart."

The question arises in one's mind, did Capt. Scott reach the pole before December 17? If so, the honor lies with the British flag, but the same en- durance and skill and meed of en- dorsement must be granted Amundsen, as the Norwegian people would grant Scott if positions were reversed.

"It would be quite possible that the two expeditions, having reached the Beardmore glacier, would be in touch with each other or would come across deposits indicating the advance or return of either party."

Citizens of Other Countries Now in the Capital of the Southern Republic Also Hold Mass Meetings of De- fense—Germans Ask for a Thousand Rifles—United States Ambassador Cautions Against Partisanship.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, March 7.—Four hundred Americans in a mass meeting today, discussed plans for self-protection, should disorders occur in the capital.

This action followed similar meet- ings of citizens of other foreign coun- tries.

Committees were named to formu- late plans and to work with com- mittees representing other nationalities, all with the approval of the authori- ties of the Federal District.

The American Ambassador, in a brief address, cautioned Americans against taking any partisan attitude toward the political affairs of the na- tion.

One plan advocated today by var- ious groups of citizens contemplates concentration at the abattoir of a large packing company, said to offer exceptional facilities for defense. Its distance from the heart of the city is regarded as its chief disadvantage.

Application already has been made to the government by the German col- ony for 1000 rifles. This colony has taken the lead in organizing. A num- ber of concentration points, well dis- tributed through the residential sec- tions, have been selected to each of which the women and children in its vicinity will be taken at the first alarm. These places are being pro- visioned for a five-day siege.

The Spanish colony, the largest in the city, made similar arrangements today.

Minister Calero of the Foreign Of- fice today denied that he had ever said Americans in the capital would be held as hostages if United States troops crossed the border. It was said that in all probability the posts of Foreign Relations and Communi- cations would be vacated by the in- cumbents this week. No confirma-

Remarkable Demonstration as Judge Martin Calls Her a "Conspirator."

Scathing Arraignment Is Too Much for "Purple Mother of Loma Land."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—[Exclu- sive Dispatch.] Judge J. N. Mar- tin, of counsel for the plaintiff in the Thurston will contest, began his opening address to the jury in the Su- preme Court here this afternoon.

From 2 o'clock until 5 he kept up the task, unmercifully denouncing Mrs. Tingley, his opponent, finally bringing forth applause from among the hundreds who crowded into the courtroom in anticipation of the scene which happened.

Order was restored with difficulty, Judge Guy threatening to clear the courtroom if such a scene was re- enacted.

Finally, Mrs. Tingley, who in loud whispers had been denouncing Judge Martin as a wretch, rose from her chair and left the courtroom.

"Over there in Loma Land," said Judge Martin in opening, "there was a great conspiracy and the chief con- spirator was 'Purple.' They played for a stake and that stake was a lit- tle woman of less than 100 pounds, Mrs. Harriet P. Thurston."

In this strain Martin continued for a half hour until he reached the tes- timony of Dr. Lorin F. Wood.

"Listen and let us see if Dr. Wood even knew how to tell the truth," began Martin, but he got no further when the applause started and his words were drowned in the outburst.

A letter which Mrs. Tingley had written to condole with the relatives of Mrs. Thurston at the time of her death, was next read.

"There, in the words of Katherine Tingley, is the essence of the crime she committed," said Martin.

"There, in the words of Katherine Tingley, is the confession of that crime," he concluded.

It is believed Martin will require all of tomorrow to finish his review of the case.

The other attorneys for the plaintiff will probably finish Monday, Judge McKinley being held in reserve for the closing argument.

Continental Limited Passenger Train on Wabash Railroad Rolls Down Bank, Injuring Sixty.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] DANVILLE (Ill.) March 7.—Round- ing a curve on a thirty-foot embank- ment at Redwood Creek bridge, two miles west of West Lebanon, Ind., westbound Continental Limited train on the Wabash Railroad, which was towing five persons and injuring six- ty. The seven coaches of the train were crushed into a pile at the bot- tom of the high embankment lead- ing to the creek, and it is feared that many dead may be beneath the crushed cars.

Snow and ice made the work of clearing the wreckage slow and dan- gerous.

The identified dead: MRS. E. G. GOOD, MRS. GRANT, en route to Kansas City.

Fullman porter, name unknown. Two unidentified men.

Among the seriously injured were: Fred Henshagen of St. Louis, travel- ing auditor, Wabash Railroad, who was hurt about head.

T. H. Robertson, Camden, N. J. William Bridwell, Decatur, Wabash signal man.

J. H. Green, Detroit, dining car cook, colored; scalded and cut.

The train was traveling forty miles an hour when a rail broke under the weight of the engine.

The newspaper man told Rose to mind his pulpit and he would run his own paper. Friends held both men and a supposed fight was averted. Rose claims that he had been mis- quoted in Dem's paper.

THE SCIENTISTS
ARE THANKFULPractical Benefits from the South Pole Discovery.May Enable Long Distance
Weather Forecasts.Chicago Professor Discourses of the Achievement.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Long-time weather predictions, for which scientists have been striving for centuries, is a probable result of Capt. Robert Scott's Antarctic expedition, according to Prof. T. T. Chamberlain, head of the geology department of the University of Chicago.

"A problem which has confronted the scientific world from the earliest days is the matter of long-time weather prediction," said Prof. Chamberlain. "It may be said readily that if it becomes possible to predict the advent of storms accurately weeks in advance, it will be of immense commercial value to the world.

"Through the discovery of the nature of the territory at the South Pole, the wind movements and the general atmospheric conditions, it will become possible to make a complete map of wind movements over the whole face of the globe.

"This will enable scientists to trace a storm from the point where it gathers, through the path it takes, and on until its force is spent. As long as the territory about the South Pole remained an unknown land this could not be done, for the best calculations would be upset often when the storm passed over the South Pole.

"It has been known that certain peculiar atmospheric conditions, into another direction by the next world, exist at the South Pole."

THE FIRST ATTEMPT.
Efforts to discover the South Pole, at last successful, have been made intermittently since 1847, when, to the surprise of a world then famous for its explorers, a venturesome resident of Peru undertook to conquer the gales and seas of the Antarctic circle and reach the extremity of the South. This explorer was Alvaro Mendana, nephew of the Governor of Peru, Lope Garcia de Castro, who ordered him to sail from Callao to make the search.

Mendana's voyage did not materially enrich geography, but in 1805 another expedition, under Pedro Fernandez de Quirós, left Callao and discovered land in 1805, which he named Australia del Espritu Santo, supposed to be one of the New Hebrides group of islands.

Since 1823 both France and England have made determined and repeated efforts to find the South Pole. In 1823, a French expedition, under Jean-Baptiste Charcot, commanded a fleet that in 1823 tried to reach the pole. One of his ships, the Goedewa, was the first ever to reach the Antarctic Circle.

COPENHAGEN HAS NEWS BY PRIVATE ADVICES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
COPENHAGEN, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Social Democrats publish a dispatch from Christiania saying that a private individual in that city has received a telegram from the Fram expedition, stating that Amundsen reached the South Pole.

King Haakon of Norway, who was to have received the news from Capt. Roald Amundsen if he had been successful in attaining the South Pole, has not received any communication from the explorer.

King Haakon's adjutant said that should private news arrive from Capt. Amundsen it would place the King in a somewhat awkward position as he might think himself unjustified in making it public and thus spoiling Capt. Amundsen's chances of selling his story.

NO WORD RECEIVED BY SCOTT'S FRIENDS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, March 7.—It is said on good authority, according to a special dispatch received here today from Christiania, Norway, that Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, and his rival Capt. Scott of the English expedition, did not reach the South Pole.

Lieut. Evans, the London secretary of the Scott expedition, authorized the statement that no news whatever of Capt. Scott's expedition had reached the local headquarters beyond the newspaper dispatches.

PEARY IS GLAD SCOTT GOT THERE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Admiral Robert E. Peary, U.S.N., retired, the Arctic explorer and the discoverer of the North pole, who has followed with considerable interest the movements of the several expeditions in the Antarctic, today said he was glad to hear that Capt. Scott of the English expedition was the first man to succeed in reaching the South pole.

of steam. It is one of the dreaded localities of the Antarctic, to which navigators have given the name of Terror Bay, for here Nordenskiöld's ship, the Antarctic, was crushed in the ice. Back of this bay, the steamship Thetis, which was on a mission against the ice covered mountain range stretching southward.

Capt. Scott made his first winter quarters on the slope of the mountain and there remained until November, 1911. It was then that the dash began. His plan was to cover the remaining distance by the end of December and then immediately about-face and make the dash back again. He placed his reliance not only on his equipment of food, but had a score of ponies, twenty-nine dogs and one motor sledge. He designed to use this sledge in making rapid progress over the comparatively level stretches of the foothills. Due allowance was made for the death of ponies and dogs, the steady depletion of stores and the loss of vitality of the party making up the expedition.

Capt. Amundsen had no ponies and no motor sledge as his experience led him to place all his reliance on Siberian dogs.

OTHER COMPETITORS.
The three other competitors in the race were Lieut. William Fitchner, of the general staff of the German army; Lieut. N. Shirase, of the Japanese navy; and Dr. Douglas Mawson, representing Australia.

Lieut. Fitchner followed largely the plans of Dr. Mawson and sailed on the steamer Deutschland on October 5, last. He is a daring explorer, having been one of the first to reach Lhasa, in Tibet, and much confidence was felt in him by the Geographical Society of Berlin.

The Japanese explorer followed the Shackleton route into Ross Sea, but returned to Sydney, Australia, in 1911, to repair damage done in Terror Bay. His second start was not made until November last, so he is rather behind in the race.

Dr. Mawson, the Australian, took his route from the harbor of Hobart, Tasmania, aboard the little ship Aurora, and took the land route to the east of Ross Sea. The five men and their parties were out of sight of the world for many months. The first rumor came yesterday, with the contradictory report that Amundsen had returned to his base, while his rival, the English explorer, had reached the coveted goal.

From a geographical and scientific standpoint, the discovery of the South Pole was a momentous event, but it has not the same features of importance and danger as relate to the North pole. The quest for the latter has been through great fields of open water and floating ice, whereas the 40th pole is situated on land.

Scores of navigators have perished in the quest for the North pole, but relatively few in trying to reach the South pole. The problem has not been one of navigating the perilous floating ice, but of passing rapidly over the snow-covered foothills of the mountain range and terrifying glaciers.

LONDON DISTURBED BY CONFLICTING REPORTS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, March 7.—While intense interest has been aroused in the results attained by the South Polar expeditions under command of Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, and Capt. Robert F. Scott of the British Royal navy, respectively, which are returning from the Antarctic region, dispatches on the subject are conflicting.

Capt. Amundsen has arrived at Hobart, Tasmania, on the steamer Fram, and, according to the first word from that port, he declared that Capt. Scott had reached the pole. Up to a late hour tonight, however, no word to that effect has come to Mrs. Scott, wife of the British explorer, who still doubted the achievement, but reiterated her hope that the news was true. Nor did Lieut. Evans, the London secretary of the Scott expedition, receive any direct word of Capt. Scott's reported success, and he assumed that he would be among the first notified, probably by a message from Capt. Scott himself through the agency of the remaining distance by the end of December and then immediately about-face and make the dash back again. He placed his reliance not only on his equipment of food, but had a score of ponies, twenty-nine dogs and one motor sledge. He designed to use this sledge in making rapid progress over the comparatively level stretches of the foothills. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Local uneasiness prevails in certain reality homes here and elsewhere over the discovery that the government is in possession of hundreds of letters written by women and girls to Dr. Otto Zerkow, Hanish, head of the Sun Worshiper cult, who range from musings of 10 and over down to little girls, and some of them are declared to be the limit in mushiness. The possibility of the government summoning the writers as witnesses against Hanish is causing much apprehension.

Following the lead obtained in these letters, the government also seized a large quantity of medicines, lotions and drugs being dispensed by Hanish at very high prices.

STRANGE FINDS.
The "Little Master," who is said to be really possessed of considerable knowledge of chemistry and alchemy, maintained a well-ordered laboratory in the basement of the temple and prepared medicines for every known ailment and many imaginary ills. The government is particularly interested in obtaining the formula for "violet leaf tea," which Hanish dispenses to his devotees, mainly women. Hanish also depends largely upon a preparation of pomgranate juice, which the government is interested in learning more about.

News reached the Federal officials today that Mrs. Elizabeth Linder, a woman who was said to be in hiding in Montreal, had disappeared from that city. Detectives were sent to Montreal Tuesday, following the discovery of letters from Mrs. Lindsay to Hanish, thus giving the first clue to her whereabouts since the mysterious disappearance of her boy here several months ago.

NEIGHBORHOOD AROUSED.
Hanish and his followers were given a taste of the temper of the neighborhood towards them when they arose this morning. When Hanish went to his balcony to make his customary salutation to the sun, he discovered the sacred Mecca front on the balcony board, to abandon their station for one of the adjoining ones.

Underneath was a written warning from the "Anti-Hanish Night Riders." Guards were at once stationed around the temple and will be maintained while the agitation is on.

Considerable testimony against Hanish and his methods was obtained from boy acolytes before the Federal court yesterday. The chief boy witness, although 15 years of age, had a voice like a girl.

CHIHUAHUA (Mex.), March 7.—Gen. Orozco gave instructions today for a resumption of traffic on the Mexican Northwestern Railway between here and Madero. Traffic on the Mexican Central still is subject to the orders of Orozco.

EL PASO, March 7.—A passenger train left Juarez over the Mexican Central today, bound for Chihuahua, operating under orders from Gen. Orozco at Chihuahua. It did not carry mail, but the express company sent out urgent matter and newspapers were carried.

The United States Postoffice Department has ordered that mail for thirty towns and communities in the rebel district be given to the rebel officials in Juarez, despite the fact that the Mexican postoffice in Juarez of the Madero government has consented to serve under the new Central government.

Other mail, however, has been dispatched, but are out of stamps. All letters mailed in Juarez have to be brought to El Paso and stamped.

LONDON, March 7.—The first sign of a break in the coal strike comes from North Wales where the employees of some of the smaller mining companies have reopened negotiations with the owners. Some of these mines are worked by independent contractors, and therefore have been operated by union men.

While the prospects of a settlement of the coal dispute appear somewhat brighter today conditions in some other industries are becoming worse every hour. The number of unemployed is increasing everywhere and many cases of great distress prevail.

The church and the wealthier part of the population, hitherto uncertain, have swung to his side. The enlistment of cadets from the best families in the country is an important factor in adding to the confidence felt in, the chief executive. Steps were made at La Paz and San Quentin, where reinforcements for the garrisons there were landed. The balance of the troops are intended to strengthen the garrisons in the North District of Baja California, including the posts along the border line from the Colorado River to the Yuma. The Mexican authorities here have not stated how many troops were taken off at Massalia.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PARIS, March 7.—The belief that Mexico would emerge triumphant from its present internal troubles and win of friendship for the United States of America, were expressed by Francisco L. de la Barra, formerly President of Mexico, at a reception given in his honor this afternoon by the Franco-American Committee.

On behalf of the committee, Paul de Leroy-Beaulieu of the French Institute, voiced the welcome to De la Barra. He pointed out that Mexico was the center of Latin culture in Central America. Referring to her "powerful rich neighbor, the United States of America," he said it was natural that the United States should have an important influence on the development of Mexico, but he supposed it would be in the interest of Central America, and that the Latin character and originality of that country would be maintained.

Senor de la Barra, after paying a tribute to French genius, expressed the opinion that the present revolution in Mexico would cease, thanks to public opinion, which would see that peace was a necessity for the national life. He continued:

MORE REFUGEES REACH TUCSON.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
TUCSON (Ariz.), March 7.—A considerable number of Americans, men, women and children, from the west coast of Mexico, arrived here today. Some decided to remain near the international border, but many others arranged to leave for points east and west of Tucson.

According to the statements of the refugees, conditions in Mexico seemed nearly normal as far south as Guaymas, but below that city much unrest and considerable anti-American feeling were manifested.

One refugee, the owner of valuable sugar and grazing lands in the vicinity of Navajo, said that because of his holdings he had delayed his departure as long as he had deemed it safe to do so.

"Every American in Mexico who has money enough to pay his railroad fare is leaving that country," he said.

OFFER SERVICES AS ROUGH RIDERS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
GALVESTON (Tex.), March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the expectation that Uncle Sam will have to send troops into Mexico, the Southwestern and Panhandle Cattlemen's Association offers to equip a regiment of mounted rough riders for the service. The regiment is to be composed of ten companies of 150 men each, and all of them cowboys, or men familiar with the frontier and taken from the ranches in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The offer was submitted through the Texas department of the army, and if not accepted by the government, the rough riders will offer their services to Texas for border patrol, should the regular troops be sent into Mexico.

RIGHT TO WORK TO BE TAXED.

McCall Says the Democrats
Contemplate the Levy.

Would Thus Make Up Loss of the Sugar Duty.

The Beauty of Free Trade
Knocks for Admission.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—In a supplemental statement issued today on behalf of the minority of the House Ways and Means Committee, Representative Fordney of Michigan declared the majority report on the free sugar bill, submitted by Chairman Underwood, was "an admission" of all that the minority claimed.

"It showed, conclusively," said the statement, "that the domestic beet and cane sugar industry can not survive free sugar, and they admit that the bill was framed in the interest of the refiners. In their own words, and I quote from the majority report, 'the industrial position of refining requires primary consideration.' And this notwithstanding the fact that the majority say that 'probably no industry in this country has been more closely controlled by industrial combinations than the manufacturing and refining of sugar.' Free sugar means that this control will be absolute if the domestic industry is destroyed."

AN INDIVIDUAL REPORT.

Representative McCall of Massachusetts filed an individual minority report from the Ways and Means Committee today, covering both the free sugar and the so-called "income tax" bill.

"The sugar bill," he said, "does away with $15,000,000 annual revenue upon an article which is a source of revenue in every civilized country, and with the probability that very little of the resultant duty will escape the refiner, the wholesaler, the jobber and the retailer and reach the consumer of sugar."

"The revenue thus thrown away it proposed to make good by direct tax, which is probably unconstitutional, and which would not rest upon incomes coming to the possessor without effort, but would rest upon the right to work and its necessity as a franchise, the exercise of which would be taxed."

"The majority," he said, "do all this because they say: 'The refining interest is the most important connected with sugar manufacturing in the United States.' Therefore the industrial position of refining requires primary consideration. I think the majority express undue solicitude for an industry concentrated in a few hands, and I am informed that the testimony taken before another committee of the House shows that it is very expensive to the country."

CHAMBER HAS A BIRTHDAY.

Speaker of House Puts in Sixty-Second Anniversary on Duty, and Is Greeted With Applause.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Speaker Champ Clark celebrated today the sixty-second anniversary of his birth by presiding over the deliberations of the House in the sixty-second Congress. When the House convened, an unusually large number of members were present and the Speaker was greeted with applause.

Representative Rainey of Illinois, as the Speaker's "nearest Congressional neighbor," delivered a eulogy of Mr. Clark, likening him to Lincoln, whose career from a backwoods farm to the Presidency, he declared, was being duplicated by Champ Clark.

The people of Washington have been invited to attend tonight a mass meeting reception to the Speaker.

Representative Rainey's remarks were roundly applauded. Representative Austin of Tennessee (Republican) paid tribute to Mr. Clark.

"I congratulate the Democracy on its wisdom in making the Speaker as its standard-bearer in the coming campaign," he said.

Former Speaker Cannon also congratulated the Speaker and commended the Democrats for their evident intention to nominate Mr. Clark for President. He extolled Mr. Clark for his unflinching fairness as Speaker.

When the demonstration began Speaker Clark turned the gavel over to Representative Borah of Missouri (Democrat) and escaped from the chamber.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Attorney General Wickersham said today he had no present intention of intervening in the dispute between the Standard Oil Company and the Western Petroleum Company, formerly one of the Standard Oil subsidiaries, now in the State courts at St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Wickersham said he would be instructed by the Attorney General to keep in close touch with the matter and report to Washington any developments warranting Federal action.

WANTS VOUCHERS AS RELICS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Charles G. Gates, son of the late John W. Gates, has written Chairman Stanley of the Steel Trust Investigation Committee asking for the vouchers for the witness fees and expenses paid to his father for testifying. The amount due Mr. Gates was $35.70. His son says he would like to have the vouchers for "memorial" purposes.

WILSON ACCEPTS PRIMARY.

AUTHORIZES ANNOUNCEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—President Wilson's preference for Woodrow Wilson, the popular choice for the Democratic nomination, was endorsed today by William F. McDonough of New York, campaign manager for Gov. Woodrow Wilson. In a statement, Mr. McDonough said Gov. Wilson would be willing to submit his candidacy to that test. The endorsement from Mr. McDonough followed discussion of the alleged combination of Speaker Clark, Gov. Harmon and Oscar Underwood against Gov. Wilson, the report of which was characterized recently by Speaker Clark as a "malicious lie."

RAISER WATCHES CANAL.

Invites Chief Engineer on Panama Week to Luncheon at Palace, for Exchange of Ideas.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, March 7.—Emperor William, who is interested keenly in the Panama Canal, has invited Lieutenant Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the canal, to luncheon at the palace on March 10. The Emperor is known to hold opinions different from those of the American engineers regarding a sea level as opposed to a lock canal, and also on the inadequacy of the Panama locks for the expected battleship development. These opinions are based on reports of German engineers and the Emperor now has asked the opportunity of conversing with the chief engineer of the canal, who has returned from a flying trip of inspection of the Kiel Canal and other engineering works.

Col. Goethals found the locks of the Kiel Canal larger than those of Panama, but was impressed chiefly by the military methods in regard to the canal, and also by the military administration of the State railroads. He goes to Dresden tomorrow to see the methods employed in the canal construction there and will depart for England immediately after his luncheon with the Emperor, and sail thence for America.

Long Strides.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] California's agricultural value has increased greatly in the last decade, according to statistics made public yesterday by the census bureau. The total wealth in the form of California farm property is $1,414,695,000, of which $1,144,695,000 is contributed by land and buildings, 1.4 per cent by live stock and 2.3 per cent by implements and machinery. The value of land and buildings is $1,144,695,000, a little more than double that for 1900. In 1900 the value was only $574,000.

A considerable increase has occurred also in the value of livestock and of implements and machinery. The average value of farm land per acre for the State as a whole is $141.10. In 1910 the total number of farms owned in whole or in part by the operators was 68,632. Of this number 23,145 were reported free from mortgages, 24,745 were reported mortgaged and for $15 per acre relative to mortgage indebtedness was obtained. The number of mortgages on farms owned by 46.5 per cent of the total number of owned farms exclusive of those for which no mortgage report was obtained.

Long Strides.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] California's agricultural value has increased greatly in the last decade, according to statistics made public yesterday by the census bureau. The total wealth in the form of California farm property is $1,414,695,000, of which $1,144,695,000 is contributed by land and buildings, 1.4 per cent by live stock and 2.3 per cent by implements and machinery. The value of land and buildings is $1,144,695,000, a little more than double that for 1900. In 1900 the value was only $574,000.

WANTED IN SAN DIEGO.

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire to the Times.] The Sacramento authorities have granted today upon the application of the San Diego authorities for the return of James H. Ewell, wanted in San Diego on charges of forgery. Ewell is now held in Salt Lake City. He is said to have stolen a check book from a San Diego citizen and to have forged the name of the owner of the book.

WONT PAY FOR SERMON.

Bill for Funeral Oration Rejected by Widow Because Organized Rejected Husband's Devotion.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WALLACE (Idaho) March 7.—Father F. A. Becker, of St. Alphonsus Catholic Church, has taken legal steps to collect $25 for preaching the funeral sermon over Adam Golegong, one of his parishioners.

Mrs. Golegong, the defendant in the suit, declared today that in Father Becker's sermon over her husband, the late Mr. Golegong, was denoted for his non-attendance at church. She declared that this deeply offended her and caused her to refuse to pay this bill. She declared that later she refused to pay $10, but this sum was refused.

Father Becker declared the suit was brought as an object lesson to his parishioners who were prone to avoid the payment of such charges.

Simple Remedy For Kidneys

The following prescription is known to be one of the most effective obtainable for quick relief and permanent restoration of the kidneys and bladder: "Half ounce fluid extract Buchu; half ounce Murax compound; six ounces of good gin. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time." Any druggist can mix or furnish the ingredients of this prescription.

rain in the back, rheumatic pains, frequent and scanty urination, a pain in groin are nature's warnings that the kidneys are deranged, and should have immediate attention, for serious illness, such as Bright's disease or diabetes, are likely to follow.

PASTOR DIES OF MENINGITIS.

DR. LEWIS OF KANSAS CITY ONE OF EIGHT VICTIMS.

Eleven New Cases of the Malady Are Reported—Health Commissioner Says a Few Days of Sunshine Would Contribute Much to the Eradication of the Disease.

ST. DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

KANSAS CITY, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rev. Alexander Lewis, D.D., pastor of the First Congregational Church, who was stricken with spinal meningitis yesterday morning, is one of the eight victims of the disease reported within the last twenty-four hours. He died in his home at 5:45 o'clock this morning. Besides the seven other deaths from the disease, eleven new cases have developed, eight of the number being children.

Two deaths occurred yesterday in the home of John L. Gray, No. 115 Oakland avenue, Kansas City, Kan. Zula Gray, 5 years old, was taken suddenly ill in the night and died at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. While the house was being fumigated, Mrs. M. J. Murphy, 56 years old, grandmother of the girl, died after being sick only a few minutes.

John Gorman, 21 years old, died this morning in St. Margaret's Hospital, twelve hours after the death of his 4-year-old sister, Evelyn, in the family home, No. 922 Reynolds avenue, Kansas City, Kan. Another death today across the line was that of Dale Spencer, 19 years old. He started to work yesterday morning, but complained of feeling ill and returned home. His condition became critical at noon, and he died at 5 o'clock this morning.

The other deaths occurred in the General Hospital.

Dr. W. S. Wheeler, Health Commissioner, said today: "While we are doing everything possible to combat the disease, I believe that most effective influence against it would be a week of warm, sunshiny weather. With the aid of that we could stamp it out entirely."

Frederick Keppel.

NEW YORK, March 7.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Frederick Keppel, one of the best-known art experts in America and head of the art-importing firm of Keppel & Co., died suddenly of heart disease early this morning at his home here. He was 57 years old. Mr. Keppel was well known to the public as a magazine contributor and lecturer on art subjects. His son, Frederick S. Keppel, is dean of Columbia College.

Maj. Robert S. Bullock.

LEXINGTON (Ky.) March 7.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Maj. Robert S. Bullock, one of Morgan's raiders, who was captured with his famous chief in Ohio in the Civil War, died here today as he was sitting in his home reading his Bible. He was 84 years old.

Sir Frederick W. Kitchener.

HAMILTON (Bermuda) March 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Lieut.-Gen. Sir Frederick Walter Kitchener, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Bermuda and brother of the famous Viscount Kitchener, died last night after an operation for appendicitis, which was performed on February 24 at the Military Hospital at Prospect Hill.

Mary D. Jones.

NEW YORK, March 7.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Mary D. Jones, for whom a special act of Congress was passed granting her a pension for her service performed as a nurse during the Civil War, died yesterday in Brooklyn, aged 103. Up to the moment of her death Miss Jones retained all her faculties.

MONOPLANES TO PARIS.

French Aviator Makes Safe and Easy Journey from London—Wind Halts Him on Return Trip.

PARIS, March 7.—Henri Salvey, the French aviator, arrived at Issy-les-Moulineaux, a suburb of Paris, in his monoplane today, having traveled from London without a stop. He covered the distance of about 232 miles in 2 hours and 57 minutes.

Salvey said that having urgent business to transact in Paris and seeing that the London-to-Paris train and steamboat service was affected by the coal strike, he had decided to make the voyage through the air in spite of unfavorable weather.

During his trip from London he navigated his monoplane by the compass. He traveled at an average height of 6000 feet, and generally was above the clouds, only occasionally catching glimpses of the land or sea. Salvey's extraordinary speed under the circumstances is explained by the fact that his machine was pushed along by a strong breeze from the north-west, which will be unfavorable to his progress on his return trip to London, on which he started this afternoon.

FORCED TO LAND.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BERCK (France) March 7.—Salvey was forced to land here at 6 o'clock tonight on account of the violence of the wind. He will continue his journey to London tomorrow.

The Nightmare

I'll never eat another 'less it's made of—Cottolene

"Such stuff as dreams are made of—" lard-cooked food. No wonder Willie has the nightmare—even the stomach of a grown-up will occasionally rebel at the havoc worked by lard-made indigestion.

Lard is made from hog fat. It is not always digestible, even at its best. Why then take chances with lard or imitations of Cottolene?

Cottolene contains not an ounce of hog-fat. It is a vegetable product—made from the choicest cotton oil, refined by our exclusive process, packed in a cleanly way in patent, air-tight top pails, and protected from all dirt, dust and contamination.

If you want purer, more healthful food, and food which will not disturb you after you have eaten it, be sure that it is cooked in Cottolene.

Preliminary Textile Inquiry Brought to a Close.

Tales Told by Strikers Are Called Misleading.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—An investigation of the American Woolen Company, its organization, capitalization, labor conditions and status as a corporation, it was reported tonight, will be recommended to Congress by the House Committee on Rules as a result of the preliminary inquiry which closed today into the textile mill strike at Lawrence, Mass.

Such an investigation was considered by the Democrats of the House long before the Lawrence outbreak. The Rules Committee has been considering two resolutions of investigation. The first, introduced by Representative Wilson of Pennsylvania, called for an investigation of strike conditions and the alleged brutalities which attended the attempt to remove strikers from the city; the other by Representative Berger, socialist of Wisconsin, directed a special inquiry into strike conditions.

Representatives of the American Woolen Company were heard today and before their testimony was taken, the Rev. Charles Carter, a city missionary in Lawrence, whose salary is paid by the mill owners, was examined. "Are you in sympathy with child labor?" Representative Wilson asked him. "Do you believe children should take the places of men?"

"The work the children do in the mills is perfectly proper for children to do," he replied.

SAYS TALES ARE MISLEADING.
Lewis F. Cox, postmaster of Lawrence, said the description of incidents at Lawrence was misleading.

"There have been attacks on the houses of people who were connected with the mill," he said, "but they have been broken down, windows broken, missiles have been thrown into the rooms while persons lay asleep."

He gave a compilation of savings bank statistics in Lawrence, showing the total savings to be $21,100,000, which, on a basis of 35,000 population, gave an average per capita wealth of $248. The statement showed that the foreign population is well represented in the deposits of all the banks.

Representatives of the American Woolen Company submitted the pay sheets of employees who had testified before the committee. In nearly every case the amounts stated by the employees were confirmed.

Frank Sherman, cashier of the Wood Mill, gave a graphic description of the attack on the mill, when the strike was called.

DESCRIBES ONSLAUGHT.
"When ungodly yells," he said, "the strikers broke down the doors, turned loose in the mill, cut off the power and drove the employees out. They pulled revolvers and knives. Girls fainting all over the mill. One of our girls was cut with a knife. One of our men who tried to turn on the power was confronted by a striker who pulled a revolver and said, 'Turn on that power and you're a dead man.'"

The police came and were so outnumbered that we had to let the men run out their terms to avoid fatalities. Finally the mob moved on, leaving the mill deserted and damaged."

Austin E. Wade, cashier of the Ayer mill, told the committee that the average weekly wage for men, women and children in the mill was $12.50 before the strike was more than 15.

Edward M. Cross of Boston, manufacturing secretary of the American Woolen Company, said the increase in wages given by the company in the last ten years was 35 per cent.

RUN AWAY FROM WORK.
Two children of Lawrence strikers ran away when forced to scrub the floor of the home in which they were placed by a committee, according to testimony given today.

Daniel Murphy, prosecuting attorney of Lawrence, read the following telegram from Samuel G. Logan, the assistant city marshal:

"Adam Barker, 15, Peter, 11, of No. 21 Common street, when brought to Arlington Hall, N. Y., were put with a Jewish family. Made them scrub floors. Did not like the way they were treated. Ran away. Picked up by letter carrier and put in Children's Home, Twenty-third street and Third Avenue, New York."

Mrs. Turt did not attend the hearing today, but her niece, Miss Anderson, was present, unaccompanied.

The Rev. Charles Carter testified up to a friend of mine heard a woman tell a little girl who was to be taken to New York to 'put on your torn dresses and leave your mother at home. They'll take care of you over there.' It was the general impression that the people who were sending the children away wanted to excite sympathy."

Mr. Carter said, after the children were sent away, parents came to him complaining and saying they wanted their children back.

TERRORIZE FOREIGNERS.
The missionary also described a condition of terror prevailing among the foreigners, aroused by the strikers.

"All these people, particularly the women," he said, "are terror-stricken. People have been aroused from their beds at night by strike agents who would shout: 'No work; don't go to work; threats to blow up homes precipitated a terrorized condition among the people.'"

"Do I understand that people of Lawrence are in a state of terror?" asked Representative Hardwick.

"The strike began in terrorism," Mr. Carter replied.

ROAD IN HANDS OF A RECEIVER.

Creditors on Kansas City, Mexico and Orient.

President and General Manager Named by Court.

Trains Running on Thousand Miles of Track.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
KANSAS CITY, March 7.—Creditors for the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railway this afternoon obtained the appointment of a receiver for the road but the Federal Court in Kansas City, Kan. The application was made before Federal Judge Pollock.

E. Dickinson of Kansas City, president and general manager of the road, was appointed. Another receiver is to be chosen.

The creditors who asked for the receivership were the International Construction Company of Delaware, the Union Construction Company of Delaware, the Western Ties and Timber Company of Arkansas, and the United States and Mexican Trust Company here.

The railroad was projected by A. E. Stillwell about twelve years ago, and it was to extend from Kansas City to Tepic, Mexico, a distance of 1235 miles.

The road is now about sixty-eight miles of the route have been completed and trains are now running over the completed portion. The road was built by Stillwell and English capitalists. A. E. Stillwell is in New York.

The last statement issued by the road indicated that its expenses were greater than its receipts.

New England Boys Sell a Device That Makes Conversations on Party Telephone Lines Entirely Private.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BOSTON (Mass.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Haversopping on a party telephone line will be made impossible by an invention of two Webster boys, which so impressed the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company that they paid $17,500 for it. The youthful inventors are Walter Bantlow and Philip Lavery, neither of whom is over 20, and neither of whom has ever made more than $10 a week.

Lavery is the genius who actually solved the problem of putting an end to eavesdropping, although Bantlow participated in the experiments.

The device on which a patent is pending, is a small box which breaks the circuit when the receiver is taken from the hook.

TO THIRTY MILLION.
WHITING (Ind.) March 7.—The stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana met here today and voted to increase the capital stock of the Indiana corporation from $1,000,000 to $30,000,000. Application for the new capitalization will be made at once to the Secretary of State of Indiana.

The directors of the company are: President, W. P. Cowan; vice-president, J. L. Drake; secretary and treasurer, J. W. Stahl.

Japanese Neutrality.
TOKIO, March 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Viscount Uchida, the Japanese Foreign Minister, replying to an interpretation today in the House of Representatives, reiterated Japan's adherence to the policy of strict neutrality in the Chinese situation. He emphasized the Japanese intention to keep the south of Manchuria and also expressed the readiness of Japan to dispatch more troops should necessity arise.

Expect American Marines.
TIENTSIN, March 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The United States cruiser Cincinnati is expected at Taku from Shanghai tomorrow. The detachment of 200 marines which broke through the Japanese blockade at Shanghai Tuesday, is expected to reach here Saturday. A French cruiser has landed marines at Taku.

American Troops to Go.
MANILA, March 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Only the third battalion of the Fifteenth Infantry, at normal strength, under command of Lieut. Col. Edwin A. Root, will now be sent to North China in connection with the transport Warren Saturday for Tientsin. Additional men to increase the strength of both battalions will follow the action of the government in imprisoning the leaders of the movement.

To Inaugurate Yuan.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The national Chinese Assembly, in session at Nanking, yesterday made a resolution of President-elect Yuan Shi Kai at Peking, according to a cablegram received here today. The oath it was stated would be administered by telegraph.

THE FAMINE IN CHINA.
NEW YORK, March 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The China Famine Relief Committee of New York received today from Dr. James L. Barton of the American board of missions, the following: "Missionary James H. McCann cables that Pao Ting is desperately ill. Thousands are destitute. Relief is urgently needed."

CALLS IT A FRAME-UP.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—John A. Rogers, accused of the murder of Benjamin Goodman, in this city last November, complained today that his lawyers and his attorneys that an effort was being made to "railroad" him to the gallows. "When you fellows get through fixing this thing up to suit yourselves, I'll have a fine case," he said today in the presence of the prosecuting attorney. The courtroom was filled to overflowing when the trial opened and extra bailiffs were required to keep the corridor clear. The hearing was halted late this afternoon when William H. Hunt, a juror, was stricken with pneumonia poisoning. It was believed that the trial would be dangerous and the trial probably will be resumed tomorrow.

DRUMMOND AS A FIGHTER.

MILLIONAIRE BIGAMIST WITH MEXICAN REBELS.

Wealthy St. Louis Man, Wanted on Charge of Violating His Parole, Is Said to Be Freely Spending His Money in the Anti-Madero Cause.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. LOUIS, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles R. Drummond, millionaire bigamist and real estate man, whose predilection for marrying and squandering money on unsuspecting girls caused the revocation of a parole in Clayton, a suburb of St. Louis, a year ago, has been located in Mexico. This became known today when William Somerville, Jr., returned from Mexico. Somerville is a close friend of the Drummond family and told several friends he had seen Drummond in Matamoros, Mex. According to his information Drummond then was taking an active part in the revolution.

Although it has been supposed Drummond had used half of his share of the fortune left by his father, the wealthy tobacco manufacturer, he was said to be spending money in big rolls in the cause of the revolution and leading part in it. Drummond was seen within a few days after it was reported that a friend in St. Louis had received a letter from him in Honolulu, Hawaii Islands.

For more than a year an order for Drummond's arrest, charged with having violated his parole in Clayton, was outstanding. He has been trailed all over the United States. At one time it was reported he was shot in the back in Paris, and shortly after he was recognized in Los Angeles. There he was traveling under the name of Durbur and was accompanied by a "Durbur." He mysteriously disappeared from Los Angeles, saying he was going to Hawaii. About the time he was last heard from in Honolulu he was in Matamoros. It was said then that he never expected to return to the United States.

The order for his arrest is still outstanding, and it should be apprehended he probably will face commitment to six months in prison in Honolulu on charge of bigamy, for marrying Miss Charlotte Vincent. At the time he was married to Miss Charlotte Bent, daughter of the Rev. Frederick Bent, a prominent minister, Vincent was annulled and Miss Bent was divorced later. Both said they were under some strange influence when they were married.

Drummond is charged with having violated his parole by eloping to New York with Miss Agnes McCannahan, daughter of John McCannahan, freight auditor of the Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad.

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An event of immediate future to which politicians are looking with interest is the visit of President Taft to Chicago on Sunday. The President will speak at the banquet of the Swedish American Republican Club on that night, and that his talk will be one of the most important addresses of the pre-convention campaign is taken for granted.

The President left for the West at 10:45 and expressed himself as especially pleased with the western situation.

The news about California is that Senator Follette some time ago served a notice on Gov. Johnson that if he (Johnson) deserted him to support Roosevelt, he (La Follette) would make a fight against him in every district in the State. Manager House of the La Follette Campaign Committee is now in California making necessary arrangements for this fight.

Taft headquarters announced tonight that Gov. Johnson and his following are trying to keep Senator La Follette's petition out of circulation. Rudolph Spreckels, it is said, is taking charge of Senator La Follette's campaign in and about San Francisco.

BACK TO SAN QUENTIN.
San Francisco Judge Refuses to Allow Abe Ruef to Tarry Longer in the City Jail.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Abe Ruef, former political boss of San Francisco, now serving a fourteen-year sentence for bribery in connection with the so-called graft cases, moved an unsuccessful effort today to avoid being returned to San Quentin prison. Ruef was brought here several weeks ago to testify against former Mayor Eugene Schmitz, but refused to do so, and was ordered back to the penitentiary Tuesday. An application for the dismissal of his indictment now pending against Ruef will be heard by Judge William P. Lawlor, Saturday. Ruef's counsel asked the court today to permit the former boss to remain at the County Jail until that time. The petition was denied. Ruef's counsel said a new application would be made immediately and that Ruef would ask for his liberty on the ground that the other defendants in the "graft cases" have been freed.

THE GOLCONDA CASE.
CARSON (Nev.) March 7.—The hearing of the civil suit in the Federal Court against the Golconda cattle company was resumed today, witnesses being examined as to the fences that were declared to have been illegally placed around government land. In each instance, the government at-

In no disease does the blood become thin so rapidly as in rheumatism. Not only does it become thin but it is loaded with impurities—the rheumatic poisons. Without proper treatment these poisons increase, the inflamed joints swell and the patient becomes a cripple.

There are a number of methods of treating rheumatism, most of them aiming to keep down the rheumatic poisons until nature can build up the blood sufficiently to overcome them. But unfavorable conditions of cold or dampness may give the disease the advantage and a relapse or renewed attack follows.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People build up the blood and enable it to cast out the rheumatic poisons with the natural secretions of the body. That hundreds have tried this treatment with good results is shown by the large and increasing number of cures reported. That every sufferer who does not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is neglecting the most hopeful means of recovery is shown by the following statement:

Mrs. Louisa Jones, of No. 1219 Mansfield street, Winfield, Mass., gives the following statement of her cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills: "I first noticed the rheumatism when I began to have severe pains and inflammation in the fingers of my right hand. The pains soon extended over my entire body. My limbs were swollen, the joints were inflamed. I could not step on my feet for six weeks at a time. I suffered for over fifteen years and this long sickness made me weak and run down in health. My stomach was disturbed, everything I ate turned sour and gas formed on my stomach. I suffered a great deal from nervous headaches. The doctors did not do more than give me temporary relief and it was not until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I was cured. I had not taken the pills more than a few days when I could see they were helping me. I took several boxes and have never been troubled with the rheumatism since. My stomach has also been strong and I am able to eat anything I care for. I am well and hearty now and gladly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you are interested in the cure of rheumatism, write today for a copy of our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood." It is sent free on request. Send no money or stamps.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold everywhere, or will be sent by mail, postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. tempted to show that the fencing prevented the free use of the public domain. The defense sought to show that the fences were not on public land and that there were many openings to allow passage to and from the public grazing lands. Testimony was offered to show that the land in dispute had been used by others than the defendants for twenty years. An area of approximately 32,000 acres is involved in the dispute. The fencing follows the range of two creeks, leaving a V-shaped section which the government declares is eliminated from public use.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
Between the uncertainty of whether President Zoukka will get any salary for March, and when the board will meet to consider the freight and express franchise forms, the Board of Public Utilities is in a muddle.

The aftermath of a Christmas dinner was told in the Superior Court yesterday in a divorce suit. How a lieutenant in the fire department was calling on the defendant in the action hid in a clothes closet when a noise was heard at the window, was related.

At the City Hall.

MAYBE NO PAY FOR MARCH.

UTILITIES BOARD IN MIST OF COMPLICATION.

Mr. Zoukka Is Acting as President.
No Can't Draw Month's Salary, But If Engineer and Secretary, Thinks He Can't Freight and Express Franchise Forms Delayed.

Complications in the affairs of the Board of Public Utilities have made it uncertain whether President Zoukka, at present sole member of the board, is receiving any salary this month or not. It is problematical, too, whether the board will be able to get at the freight and express franchise ordinances forms for three or four weeks, for Special Counsel Lewis R. Hewitt went to San Francisco last night to remain several days, in connection with the plea of San Francisco for co-operation in initiating a constitutional amendment permitting consolidation of cities and counties. Hewitt has the forms of the franchise ordinance now under consideration. Besides this, Charles E. Warner, whose nomination for membership on the board will not be acted upon before next Tuesday by the City Council, will start on Monday night for the aqueduct as a member of the Aqueduct Investigating Committee.

"I haven't been confirmed as a member of the board yet, and feel confident on that account about discussing this matter," he said yesterday when asked his position, "but I have been a member of the three committees on the aqueduct, and all my plans are made to start on this investigating trip, the first of next week. If there were anything that required immediate action and it were known that I was to be confirmed, I suppose I could remain here, but as it is, I do not know of any such thing. As it is, I understand, though, that I am merely to serve during the absence of the first of next week. My plans called for a six-week trip, and he has been gone only since last Sunday."

The salary question is raised because, when the City Council passed the ordinance for the new arrangement by which the president of the board would draw a salary and devote all his time to the work, and Secretary Comstock stepped out, the Council did not make the arrangement an emergency matter. The law does not go into effect, therefore, until April 1. After April 1, there will be no question of a salary, but a salary of $300 a month, he is not working, however.

MAJOR FAVORS IT.

DEEPEN OUTER HARBOR.

"I am heartily in favor of the proposition to have the outer harbor deepened to thirty-five or thirty-six feet, as provided in the plans of the Harbor Commission," said Mayor Alexander yesterday afternoon. He had just received a long communication from the San Pedro Commercial Club asking his aid and that of the city authorities in bringing before Congress the need of such deepening at an early date.

The Harbor Commission has taken the lead in the matter and has already acted along these lines. The Harbor Commission, of which Willis H. Booth is chairman, and which is composed of representatives of the leading civic organizations of the city, will act with the board and the San Pedro Commercial Club's views will be carried out, as they have been in the past, by the commission and the Conference Committee all along. Yesterday, following the instructions of the commission, the secretary of the Harbor Commission, Mr. Booth, sent a letter requesting him to call a meeting of the committee for a conference with the board with a view of determining the advisability of sending a representative delegation to Washington to urge upon Congress the necessity of an immediate appropriation for the purpose of deepening the outer harbor to a depth of thirty-five feet at low tide. The board suggested that the meeting be held in the Chamber of Commerce at the earliest practicable date.

AVENUE LIGHT HIGH.

OLD HILL PLANE WRONG.

The plan of cutting away the hill at San Pedro, which was brought before the Harbor Commission and the City Council three months ago, but which was not approved at the time, owing to the expense involved, has not been abandoned. The proponents of the measure, however, have discovered that if the original proposition of a 1/4 per cent. grade for the streets running up from the harbor had been agreed to, Pacific avenue would have been left ten feet above the grade. New drawings have been made, therefore, and yesterday John T. Gaffey visited the office of City Engineer Hamlin and asked that the plans be held up for some time in order that the consent of the property owners might be obtained to making the grade an average of 3 per cent. This would leave Pacific avenue as it is.

The plans of the hill property owners have been somewhat complicated by the action of the San Pedro Commercial Club, which has asked the Board of Public Works, in a letter received yesterday, to make the paving of Sixth street a special order, fixing the present grade of that street as official.

PAVE IT, HE SAYS.

SUNSET BOULEVARD FUTURE.

"There is no doubt that the unpaved parts of Sunset boulevard will have to be paved at an early date," Commissioner Humphreys of the Board of Public Works said yesterday morning in discussing numerous complaints that have been received of the muddiness of that and other thoroughfares since the rains began. These criticisms have come all along the boulevard from the neighborhood of the Sisters' Hospital down to the locality where houses are now being torn down in order to open the boulevard into Main street.

"The amount of traffic on Sunset boulevard is very great and it has become the main artery of travel for that part of the city," said the commissioner. "We have done what we could in clearing mud away from places where the wooden walks have survived the summer, but this is not an improved street. The property owners will have to take the matter up. Values along the boulevard would warrant it."

Complaints about all the unpaved streets have been received at the street department in the City Hall, and conditions have been improved as far as possible, but the extensive repairs that would be necessary to remove the cause of the impassable condition of some of the thoroughfares, it was stated, would not be authorized unless the property owners should take the necessary steps to pave their frontages.

City Hall Briefs.

The Park Commission has received from James Bowles of Franklin avenue, Hollywood, a quantity of Irish furze just arrived from Ireland. It will be planted in Griffith Park. The commission has arranged to distribute free leaves of shamrock on March 17, St. Patrick's Day from the City Hall steps, following its usual custom on that occasion. The shamrock is grown in Elysian Park.

The City Tax Collector's office is having quantities of trouble with people who come in to pay taxes and fail to bring their "blue bills," as they are called in the office, are the city's bills. Nine people out of ten, Chief Deputy Tax Collector Carter said yesterday, bring their county bills, instead of those of the city.

Asks for Charter Job.

San Pedro wants representation on the Charter Revision Commission and, since there are five vacancies on the commission, the San Pedro Commercial Club thinks the opportunity to secure what it deems a good one. Yesterday the club sent a communication to the City Council asking that the claims of the harbor district be considered. It was pointed out in the City Clerk's office when the letter was received, however, that the Council has nothing to do with filling vacancies on the commission. The letter will be forwarded to the commission.

CHRISTMAS DINNER AFTERMATH DISCONCERTS HUSBAND.

Takes Friend Home and After Separating from Wife He Finds Them Talking Tenderly in House. Noise at Window Sends Fire Fighters to Clothes Closet.

"I invited that man to my home for a Christmas dinner, and the result," remarked Lieut. Louis Norton of the fire department, referring to Lieut. Arthur L. Nietzke, also a member of the department, who was present in the divorce court yesterday, named as co-defendant in the action which Norton brought against his young wife and mother of their 4-year-old child.

Norton alleged cruelty and a more serious offense against his wife, Judge Monroe stated that no case had been made on the grounds of cruelty. According to the testimony of witnesses, Nietzke had been a frequent visitor to the Norton home.

Mrs. Norton has filed a cross-complaint which will be heard later. She denies the allegations of misconduct committed by her husband, and so does Nietzke. She explained a visit of Nietzke to her home after she had separated from her husband. Norton had testified to looking through the window. Mrs. Norton stated that she had been feeling sick and lonely and that encountering Nietzke, he invited her to luncheon and later they went to Pasadena and attended a morning picture show.

They returned about midnight and she asked Nietzke into the house in appreciation of his kindness. While they were pleasantly engaged in conversation, Mrs. Norton heard a noise at the window and became alarmed. She screamed and fled through the house and discovered he had gone into a clothes closet.

"Why did you run when you heard the noise at the window?" asked Judge Monroe. "I thought it was a burglar," replied Mrs. Norton.

"You didn't know it was your husband at the window?" asked the judge.

"No, I didn't. I was scared and screamed."

"And you say Nietzke also ran and you found him in a closet?" asked Judge Monroe.

Mrs. Norton replied affirmatively. The case will be continued this morning.

EX-PATROLMAN'S TRIAL.

WOMEN ABSENT.

The trial of R. R. Herbert, charged with having accepted a bribe from a woman while he was a member of the police department, was begun in Judge Cabanilla's court yesterday.

The alleged crime was committed July 21 last, when Mabel Young is said to have given Herbert $25 as protection money.

He was held to the Superior Court, and yesterday his attorney read at length from the depositions taken at that time. Mabel Young and Maud Merrill, the women in the case, are out of the city. A letter has been received from them, postmarked Chicago, where they are supposed to be.

Miss Ella Hitchcock of the District Attorney's office was called yesterday with reference to Herbert's alleged admission that he took the money, but only as a gift and not with the intention of affording the women protection. Deputy District Attorney Keyes is conducting the prosecution.

EXPERTS GIVE VALUES.

RATE REAL ESTATE HIGH.

A score of real estate experts testified in the suit of the City of Los Angeles against Blanche Gerlach, heard before Judge Hawley, fixing the value per front foot for property in the block between Broadway and Spring street and Eighth and Ninth streets. The various owners of property in that block opposed the referee's report in the condemnation proceedings of a twenty-foot alley, awarding an average value of $22 a square foot, declaring that they should receive $27 a square foot.

To get at the value of property these experts were called on their estimates. Mrs. Lovell, formerly a member of the City Council, was out of the will of her husband, Amalia Lovell, who left an estate valued at $75,000. "He had a suit to the jury," she said, and the jury disagreed. The trial brought out the fact that Lovell is an incompetent, that Mrs. Lovell had left him without being his wife, left him and married David Shearon, was divorced and married Lovell. Shearon was left a legacy of $500 in Mrs. Lovell's will.

FIGHT NOT IN VAIN.

COMPROMISE IN LOVELL SUIT.

A compromise has been effected in the Lovell case, which was set for retrial on the 20th last. The attorneys got together and arranged to give John Lovell a life interest in a house at Venice and $100 in cash.

Lovell, formerly a member of the City Council, was out of the will of her husband, Amalia Lovell, who left an estate valued at $75,000. "He had a suit to the jury," she said, and the jury disagreed. The trial brought out the fact that Lovell is an incompetent, that Mrs. Lovell had left him without being his wife, left him and married David Shearon, was divorced and married Lovell. Shearon was left a legacy of $500 in Mrs. Lovell's will.

ONE RICH, OTHER POOR.

FATHER SUES FOR ALLOWANCE.

According to Frank Biggs, his son, Francis V. Biggs, is ungrateful. The latter is well-fixed in this world's goods while the father says he is destitute. Biggs is a good son, Francis to provide for him and the son refuses. The result is a suit which was begun before Judge Smith yesterday for a suitable allowance.

Biggs testified that his son is worth $25,000, being the sole beneficiary of his mother's estate. The son charges his father is not a fit person to handle money or property and would improperly spend any money turned over to him.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ESTATE TO FRIENDS. The will of Marie Bayle was filed for probate yesterday. She names as executrices Marie-Berthe and Gertrude. Marie-Berthe is a French Canadian, and Gertrude is a French Canadian. Among the securities listed are 321 shares of stock of the Union Consolidated Refining Company and 231 shares of the Santa Maria Oil Company. The witnesses to the will are Louis and Camille Sentous.

HARKER WILL FILED. In the will of Joseph Harker, which was filed for probate yesterday, $5000 is left to the First Methodist Episcopal Church, to be used in foreign mission work. The estate is valued at $75,000. M. W. and Emma Harker are executors, and are assisted by their son, Joseph Harker, and three daughters today mourn his death.

PRICE OF ASSAULT. According to the judgment of the court, it will cost Patrick Collins $1000 for having injured his son's wife, Mrs. Agnes G. Collins, by the assault on her. The assault was committed on the 10th of last month, and the assault was committed on the 10th of last month.

WIDOW WANTS SHARE. Judge Rivas is called upon to decide whether the estate of Fred C. Whiting of Monrovia distributed to thirty or forty persons, the widow receiving an income of $1000 a month. The case was called yesterday and continued for further evidence. It is believed that an amicable settlement will be made.

INTERESTING SUIT. In Judge House's court yesterday, a suit was begun involving a five-foot strip of land. This strip had been conveyed to the heirs of Henry Kreim, a German, by Henry Kreim. Brainerd asks that the conveyance be set aside as it was made without consideration. The property is on Olive street.

INCORPORATIONS. Davis-Paust Company, incorporators, W. O. Morten, Harry A. Holtzer, C. R. Morten, M. E. Faust and R. F. Cook, capital stock $100,000, subscribed $50; Railroad Utilities Manufacturing Company, incorporators E. C. Green, F. W. G. Phillips and C. O. Whittemore, capital stock $250,000, subscribed $25; The Pacific Coast Amusement Company, incorporators C. H. Laska, M. S. C. C. Laska, Isaac Katz, Oscar Tankenoff and M. Orenstein, capital stock $100,000, subscribed $50.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Alleged Master Tells Court He Did Not Embroil Girl on Street Until She Went Alone to Her Home.
Pedro Garfias, who was adjudged guilty of having violated the stinging ordinance by Police Judge Chambers yesterday, asserted on the witness stand that Miss Edith Hein, a pretty child, was the subject of his attentions. He wrote letters to her before he attempted to embrace her on Spring street. This brought smiles to the face of Miss Hein and the court, and Garfias was told to return today for sentence.

Robert Allen, No. 1222 South Main street, was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday by Police Judge Fredericksen on a charge of having received stolen property. Detective Rios declares Allen received and sold three suits of clothes given him by Charles Beatty, January 25.

Realty, Eugene Bruce and Clarence Smith were held on a charge of having stolen them from the Lion Day Works yesterday.

Fred Corbett, a pugilist, who has lived in Los Angeles for about two years without an engagement or other means of support, was committed to Detective Ingram's custody, according to a charge of petty larceny before Police Judge Rose yesterday, on a charge of vagrancy. He promised to leave the city.

CONFESS THEY'RE BAD.

Leaving written confessions in the hands of the police, which stated that they had stolen from box cars in the Southern Pacific yards, William Anton, Bert Frederick, T. F. Brooker and Ralph deAnin pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny before Police Judge Rose yesterday afternoon. They were committed to the county jail, where they are supposed to be.

Tony King and Charles DeQuire pleaded not guilty to the same charge. They will be tried April 8. Bail in each case was set at $100. Detectives Hawley and Murphy declare the men are members of an organized band of ear thieves.

Don't take Nauseous Drastic Drugs or some bitter so called "candy" to chew, for your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

How much easier and more pleasant it is to swallow some tiny sugar coated pellets which slip down and leave no taste whatever.

Better still, they never give you one single unpleasant moment. No pains, no forcing of nature.

They simply aid nature by coaxing and gently regulating the bowels, cleansing the stomach, creating a healthy appetite, aid digestion, stimulate the weak kidneys—tone the whole system.

Nothing better made than this purely herbal remedy for the disagreeable taste in the mouth, dull head and queasiness of the stomach after a midnight supper or a "night out."

USEFUL LIFE IS BROUGHT TO END.

JOSEPH HARKER WAS A MAN OF STERLING WORTH.

He Came to America As Young Man and Later Built Up a Successful Business—Was Seventy Years Old and Always a Christian in Act and Word.

A man of sterling Christian character, successful in the field of business, was Joseph Harker, who was buried in Inglewood Cemetery Tuesday afternoon. He was past the age of 70 years at the time his useful life was ended by the hand of death. Respected by all who had known him during life, he was honored in death by the many friends who attended his funeral to pay a last tribute in act and word to the departed one.

It was as a young man that Mr. Harker first left his home in England and came to America to make his fortune. At an early age he became an apprentice to the dry-goods business and soon mastered it thoroughly.

After being employed for some time as a clerk in Astoria, Wis., he returned to his home in England and was married. His young wife lived only a few months.

Several years later he married Miss Elizabeth Ann Hlenkron in Wisconsin and for more than forty years she was his companion until her death two years ago last December. Two sons and three daughters today mourn his death.

After conducting a successful dry-goods business at Leadmine, Wis., for seven years, Mr. Harker lived in Iowa and then moved to Mitchell, S. D., where he built up a good business in the new community and helped develop the country. He was interested in the growth of Dakota Wesleyan University. Here he lived for twenty-two years, coming to Los Angeles six years ago.

Mr. Harker was greatly interested in the recent Gipsy Smith meetings and especially enthusiastic over the "Bible Parade." Throughout his life he was a great church worker.

Fred R. Sheridan gave an alleged psychological study of his wife yesterday in the suit for divorce which is being heard in Judge Murphy's court.

The couple were married in 1887. Sheridan charged his wife has a penchant for falling in love with her

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT.

The much-delayed suit brought by Inspector Boden, agent of the State Board of Pharmacy, against Dr. J. E. Bohrenburg, charged with having dispensed morphine contrary to law, came to trial yesterday in Justice Summerfield's court. The jury deliberated seven minutes and then brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

Mathews Paints

Always Best Grade

To wear well, paint must be made right. No matter how pure the ingredients or how perfect the formula, if the wrong process is used, a paint otherwise perfect will quickly oxidize and dust off. Especially is this true in a coast climate.

Mathews Paints Are Made Right

They are unusually heavy bodied, but will cover over 350 square feet, two coats. Especially suited to Southern California climate. $2.15 per gallon.

THE SWEET WISTARIA GIRL.

A very sweet lassie attired in deep classic robes, standing beneath a white pergola and laden with purple wistaria blossoms, has appeared as a herald to the fair ladies of Los Angeles to announce the coming of the Spring Fashion Show. Many heralds at many different times in many parts of the world have proclaimed pageants and festivals, and royal parades, but none, we venture to say, have ever announced a richer feast of art and color and decoration to a more appreciative or more eager throng.

The Fashion Show is par excellence the festal event of the season for the daintier half of humanity. The fair devotees, as they wander from shrine to shrine, cull here and there fresh fancies and beautifying notions with which to make their already bewitching forms more ravishing than ever.

Here man has sometimes failed to perceive the artistic excellence in a latest millinery or dress creation. He knows, of course, that a "1912" automobile is of necessity much handsomer than a "1909" model of the same car, yet he fails to get it through his hardened head that similarly a new spring style in hat or gown must be more becoming than a style already three years out of date. Our wives and sisters are more logical. They ask that their costumes and draperies and headgear, like their religious beliefs, their politics, their card parties and their street car and "phone service, be strictly up to date.

Therefore the coming Fashion Show, heralded by the sweet Wistaria Girl, will be at once an education and an inspiration to all who delight in art, dress and beautiful feminine adornments. "Perfectly lovely!" "Just too sweet for anything!" "Simply a dream!" "What a divine creation!" "A poem in chiffon and lace!" What naive and rapturous expressions of wonder and admiration will ripple along Broadway among the happy holiday crowds during the three mid-March days allotted for the festival.

What longings will be awakened in feminine hearts to possess some of those same perfect poems and divine creations! What rapture will follow when papa or hubby, like fairy godmothers, turn those hopes and longings into realities! And how amply will said daddies and husbands be rewarded when each sees his heart's delight arrayed in the coveted finery—some like lilies of the field and some like Solomon in all his glory. For the time at least the reduced balance in the bank-book will be generously forgotten.

Pessimists, cynics, economical reformers and the "unco gild" may shake solemn heads or write satirical epigrams about the homage paid to the Goddess of Fashion. But the love of pretty things and novel effects, the desire to adorn that most noble work of creation, "the female form divine," is good and helpful and inspiring. We need all the freshness and color and light we can infuse into this drab, practical life of ours. We need feminine beauty, beautifully adorned, to charm the eye and stir the imagination.

If the ladies appear a little inconsistent in their artistic ideals, a little extravagant sometimes in their desire for shining raiment and glittering apparel, think of the more serious follies in which we men are apt to indulge. Cigars and highballs and poker games and prize fights and betting on politics; the money spent on Cleopatra's new gown or Phyllis's Easter hat might have been put to some far more deadly use. Yes, we men ought to be thankful that Heaven has set such a sweet control on our opportunities for indulging in little malicious peccadilloes.

So, all hail the Wistaria Girl and the promise she is bringing of another gorgeous Fashion Show to outdo anything hitherto attempted in the City of the Angels!

FINDING THE SPARK.

Nearly every man feels that it is in him to do something better than he has yet accomplished if he only had the chance. Big things seem to come so easily and so quickly to the man who does them that the other fellow always wonders why he had not thought of the same thing. The truth is that the world is likely to accept us at face value. If a man thinks well of himself, the world is pretty certain to confirm his good opinion. Men often miss success and happiness by the simple omission to take their own good qualities as seriously as they deserve. The realization of a man's own genius and the perfect freedom and fearlessness of its expression present the one sure road to achievement. A man's genius is the light that is within himself and it is strange that he waits to recognize that inner touch in thousands of others before he looks to see if expressed in himself.

If it only takes this flicker of thought and feeling to make for mastery, then the world only needs people who will individually look for this spark and who will fan it into flame when they have found it, in order to mould a great race. As a matter of truth, the human family at present is in a most peculiar condition with regard to its sense of position. It has grown away from satisfaction in mere physical comfort and has not yet attained the complete ascendancy of the mental and the spiritual. It isn't satisfied with the flesh pots of Egypt and it cannot find that other manna by which it must ultimately be sustained. All of its labor-saving devices, its fascinating inventions and its illuminating discoveries in science are only steps toward a life dominated more by reason than by appetite.

Now and then some man realizes this truth a little more acutely than others and he soon appears upon the firmament of common thought like a star in the skies. That one man should be blessed above others in a heritage which is universal is most unlikely. Some find the way sooner than others, but they have simply outstripped the rest in the expression of what every man is. Their triumph over what has previously appeared to others as limitations is never in the least mysterious, although it may often be subtle. It is simply the transcendence of thought and it works with the power of ease. The key of the heart is simply understanding. It is the royal way to an open vision and has nothing mystical about it. No real master among men, whether he be a soldier, writer, man of science or teacher of holy and wise truths, ever rants about the subliminal consciousness, the subjective mind or uses other heavy psychological and occult terms. Instead, he proves the clarity of his light by the simplicity of his expression, using words which mean the same thing to everybody to express an experience that is within the reach of everybody, providing there exists a limitless desire to reach the same height or its corollary in a different direction.

No man can be so enguiled in the imagination of the senses or in the satisfaction of animal appetites that he does not dream of the unaroused powers which are dominant within him; and the success of those who arrive should not so much stimulate admiration or hero worship as it should suggest the possibilities within the reach of us all.

OPPORTUNIST POLITICS.

Senator Bacon openly proclaims himself to be a political opportunist. The Democratic party, being for the time in control of the House of Representatives, ranks as the majority party of the country. As the majority party it is its duty, according to usage, to take the initiative in holding its national convention and formulating its declaration of principles. It assumes to be the interpreter of public opinion. It should stand upon its own ground and not wait to ascertain which way Republicans are going, and then go the other way.

But the announced programme of Senator Bacon is to postpone the holding of the Democratic National Convention until after the Republican National Convention shall have met and adjourned. It is a policy of opportunism that Senator Bacon proposes: if the Republicans nominate Taft on a conservative platform then let the Democrats nominate Wilson on a platform that will be radical; if the Republicans nominate Roosevelt on a platform that is radical, then let the Democrats nominate Harmon on a platform that is conservative.

Outside of a few thousand precinct statesmen, who are in politics for revenue only, the main body of the people are not interested in the Baconian tactics, and neither Wilson nor Harmon nor Champ Clark has anything like the following which rallied around Bryan. The people want parties that have principles upon which candidates are willing to stand or fall, and they want men who represent those principles. One of the elementary differences between the two great parties is that the Republicans have always sought to nominate men to maintain principles, and the Democrats have ever been engaged in a still hunt for principles with which to secure the election of men.

One of the storm centers in the approaching campaign is likely to be the financial question. "High finance" is to be held up to public scorn and condemnation and it will be demanded by one party or the other, and maybe by both, that the "money trust" shall be "busted." The memory of Andrew Jackson will be invoked, and Democrats will boast that he was a second Saint George, who slew a dragon, when in truth he was an indiscriminate and illegal fighter who slew only "the family cow."

At this date impartial chroniclers and analysts of American history are of the opinion that the United States Bank, which Andrew Jackson destroyed, was ably and honestly conducted, that it brought about the redemption of specie payments, which had been suspended during the war of 1812; that it furnished the country a sound uniform currency, of which there was great need; that it performed valuable services in the development of the South and West; that it was a highly useful institution; that the charges brought against it were trivial and were declared to be such by two committees of Congress, which, after Jackson began his attack, investigated the bank and reported favorably upon it.

Jackson remained a Democrat debtly for many years after his death and to this day terrified Democratic orators of the vox et preterea nihil variety spread their rhetorical wings and primp the pin feathers of their imaginations and apostrophize "the immortal Andrew Jackson." But men who are not given to ancestor worship and who do not much admire the Democratic practice of fetich adoration, say that the "immortal Jackson" was an ardent old demagogue, who took advantage of a passing artificially created popular prejudice to kill the bank, and who thereby constructed a foundation on which successive money panics have since been erected.

That the financial question will be a prominent element in the coming political campaign is altogether possible. That the voters—whether Republican, Democratic or Socialist—will comprehend the question is by no means clear.

RUSSIA'S TRADE WAR.

The "traditional friendship" of Russia for the United States appears to have dwindled to the vanishing point. It has been sacrificed on the altar of religious bigotry.

The race that produced the greatest Jew of the world, Christ the Redeemer; the race that gave Meyerbeer, and Mozart and Mendelssohn to music; that gave Dvorak to statesmanship; that has produced artists, authors, and orators, and poets, and generals, and inventors, and philanthropists innumerable, and that even produced—Bendigo—a prize fighter that was never whipped, is under the ban in Russia.

The Nationalist party in Russia is unfriendly to the United States because our government abrogated the treaty with Russia on account of the persistent and flagrant violation by that power of its agreements in excluding from Russian soil Jews of American birth or citizenship. An enterprising Boston Hebrew, named Solomon Heydenheimer, succeeded in landing by changing his name to Patrick O'Gorman and wearing a gold cross on his watch guard. He was detected by a Greek Catholic priest, who questioned him about New Testament miracles and found that he was versed only in the laws of Moses. He escaped banishment to Siberia by fleeing over the German frontier.

Russia has declared a trade war against us. Bills have been introduced in the Russian Duma raising the duty on American goods by about 100 per cent. That we will reciprocate in the same spirit of kindly hostility is altogether probable. We shall not lose by the abrogation of the treaty for the trade balance in our dealings with Russia has been in her favor. We imported more than we exported. We can make anything that is grown there, while she cannot produce cotton, or citrus fruit,

SOCIETY

Miss Hazel Wilson.
Who is domiciled at Ocean Park, where she will spend several months.

INTERESTING among Lenten visitors are Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Davis of San Francisco, who have just returned from a three months' visit in New York City, which proved very profitable. Since her arrival Mrs. Davis, who is stopping at the Alexandria, has been busy with tea, luncheon and dinners which will continue until her departure next week. From here they will go to Colorado and then home.

Luncheon Yesterday.
Miss Elsie Harris of No. 444 West Forty-first place was hostess yesterday at a luncheon. The decorations consisted of a pretty mound of jonquills arranged in a basket. The young guests, most of whom were society leaders of Miss Harris, included Miss Grace Hayer, Miss Margaret Nicklin, Miss Frances Fletcher, Miss Lucille Enous, Miss Orr, Schmitt, Miss Hazel Kromnick, Miss Molly Churchill, Miss Hazel Strong, Miss Ethel Horner, Miss Maude Moore and Miss Eloise O'Brien.

For Bride-elect.
In honor of Miss Dorothy Simpson, whose engagement to Rex Hardy was announced recently, Mrs. Frederick Hastings Rindge entertained at her home, No. 416 Kingsley drive, yesterday, with a card party followed by a musical tea. The guests were friends of the bride-to-be. Jonquills and ferns were effectively used in decorating. Miss Rhoda Rindge assisted the hostess.

Home Again.
Mrs. Frederick Rindge, Miss Rhoda Rindge and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hastings Rindge, returned Wednesday from a brief sojourn in San Francisco.

Entertainers Out.
Miss Phillis Dudley Wilson of No. 1844 South Union avenue has issued invitations for two bridge luncheons next week. The first will be given Thursday and will be in compliment to Mrs. John Lambert, while the Friday party is planned as a courtesy to Mrs. Harry Thompson.

Winter Tea Party.
Was an outcome of the delightful episode play at the Elbel Club, last week, the several society women that took part in it gave a theater box party, yesterday, in honor of Mrs. George Goldsmith, who acted as "producer" of the affair.

"A Man of Honor." at the Palace was selected, and the party occupied two boxes, rounding off the entertainment at the Alexandria afterwards where the theater guests were joined by a further contingent of friends.

Amateur thespians present were Mrs. Eleanor P. Hunt, Mrs. J. R. Millard, Mrs. Charles L. Higbee, Mrs. Allison Maslow, Mrs. Carrie Stone Freeman, Miss James Bert Starna, Mrs. Hite Wickster, Mrs. Ada Van Pelt, Mrs. Jack Hammer, Mrs. Potter, Mrs. R. B. Cunningham, Miss Charlotte Rockwell, Miss Ruth Comfort Mitchell, Miss Edna Bennett, Miss Fred S. Lane, Miss Juliet Borden and Miss Wickster.

"The Hundred" party, a handsome "five hundred" party will be given this afternoon by Miss Nina Chadwick at her home on West Thirty-first street. The rooms given over to the affair will be enhanced with a graceful profusion of jonquills and those to enjoy the afternoon are Miss Rosalie Lund, Miss Helen Chase, Miss Grace Hunter, Miss Alby Sherry, Miss Jean Kendrick, Miss Edna Edwards, Miss Marion Smith, Miss Ruth Fisher, Mrs. L. Morris, Mrs. J. R. Cope and Mrs. J. E. Brownrigg.

At the Alexandria.
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Gress of Canyon Falls, Minn., are passing six weeks at the Alexandria Hotel. Mr. Gress is a banker in Canyon Falls.

Funeral Social.
Mrs. John W. Thayer entertained the members of the St. Cecilia Club at her home, No. 1255 Mount Olive street, Monday afternoon. Bruce Gordon Kingsley occupied the afternoon with a delightful interpretative performance.

tal recital. The large living-room was brightened by the use of spring flowers and potted plants, while the dining-room where tea was served later, was decorated with red and white ribbons, and red shaded candelabra. Mrs. Harry Duffell presided at the coffee urn, and Mrs. L. J. Selby poured tea. Special guests present were Miss Jessie M. Lawrence, Mrs. Henry P. Flint, Mrs. Ida Schumann, Mrs. Amy Kellogg Hovey of Chicago, Misses Evelyn and Margaret O'Sullivan of Portland, Me., Mrs. Robert Hardy, Mrs. L. J. Selby and C. J. King, and members Mrs. Harry Duffell, Mrs. George Crandall, Mrs. Elmer Grey, Mrs. Clara Hazard Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Ross, Mrs. J. Doraine Barnard, Mrs. Harry Baxter, Mrs. Harry Kellogg, Mrs. Charles Lick, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Phillip Zobel, Mrs. Rose Chilcote, Mrs. Myrtle Ouellet, Miss Kie Julie Christin, Miss Willy Smyser, Miss Helen Smyser, Miss Mary Boquet and Miss Sadie Douglas.

SHRINERS PACK CIRCUS SEATS.

DIG TENT FILLED WITH CROWD OF HAPPY FOLKS.

Another Street Parade Today to Have Special Features, One of Which Will Be Tattooed Elephants.
Arab Patrol to Have Charge of Floor at Ceremonial Session.

The Shrine Circus furnished entertainment for 7000 persons at the afternoon and evening performances yesterday. Five thousand persons packed the big tent to overflowing last night and many were turned away.

Manager Cornish states that new features are to be added daily, so that even those who have already seen the big show will want to go again.

There will be another street parade at 10 o'clock this morning. It will start from the circus grounds and go north as far as Temple Block, returning by a different route. The Shrine circus and its activities will parade in their dashing, bejeweled theatrical costumes. Several added features will be seen in the glittering gold street parade.

The tattooed elephants will be one of the extra attractions at the show today. A baby camel, three weeks old, will be christened at the show Saturday night. It will be named Al Malakiah, in honor of the temple.

Al Faulkner, Sidney A. Butler, Jr., Frank E. Hays and Melvin Lieber, the famous Shrine clowns and funny men, changed their regular programme of entertainment last night and made a big hit. Butler is a scream as a German who fractures the King's English and Hand creates uproarious laughter and mirth in his outlandish trained goat and mule act, assisted by Al Faulkner.

The Shrine show has some of the most beautiful ponies and horses ever seen in Southern California. The animal show almost human agility in performing their various tricks.

The side shows did an enormous business yesterday under the supervision of Bernal Dye, Tommy Burgess, Al Levy and George Cline. Indications are that before the end of the week the Shrine will take place at the temple and after the new members will go to the circus, which is to start at 9 p.m. that night.

WON'T DISTURB TRUANTS' HOME.

PARENTAL SCHOOL NOT TO BE LEASED, SAYS BOARD.

Proposition Made by Juvenile Court Association and Psychopathic Association Is Rejected. Charges Against Engineer to Be Investigated—Cemetery Ground.

The Board of Education yesterday refused offers from the Juvenile Court Association and the Psychopathic Association to lease the Parental School on the ground that the board needs the property for its original purpose—the maintaining of a home school for truant boys. The Finance Committee was instructed to include in next year's budget provision for the expenses of the school.

The Teachers' Committee reported that they had instructed Supervisor of Compulsory Education Lickley to investigate the Strickland home, in Annandale. The institution draws State money and is therefore subject to public inspection, also because the Board of Education has been employing a teacher to instruct the children in the home.

On the recommendation of Mrs. Craig, Messrs. Goodell and Hulse are to be requested to appear before the board Monday evening, when an investigation of the charges of Hulse, of the Machinery and Electrical Company, against Goodell, engineer of the Manual Arts High School, will be made. This recommendation was made after a communication from the company was read, in which it was stated that they would prefer to bring their charges before the grand jury.

Because boys have broken into school buildings, broken windows, gambled and misbehaved generally, it is probable that all school grounds will be fenced, such a proposition was referred to the Building Committee.

H. E. Kile was granted an extension of his leave of absence. The following were elected teachers: Ethel E. Richards, Eunice E. Garrett, Elizabeth R. Smith, Della A. Kellehen. On the recommendation of the superintendent, the 4th lot, was designated school children's day, at the land show, and the teachers were authorized to excuse pupils who wish to attend, for three hours on that day.

A communication from the City Clerk regarding the transfer of the old cemetery lot, adjoining the High School property, was read. Chairman Bean of the Building Committee reported it will cost about $15,000 to remove the lot, which is now used as a playground. The City Council will pay half this expense if the board will pay the other half, and will in addition transfer the lot to the school board. The matter was referred to the president of the board, with power to act.

Also adjoining the Fourteenth-street school were ordered purchased; also two lots in Burck's Golden Tract at $1500 each. Bids were received for the school for eight classrooms, addition at the Thirty-sixth-street school, and an addition to the Center-avenue school. Awards will be made in two weeks.

COURT SCORES ATTORNEY.

Says Counsel for Figueroa, Convicted Wife Murderer, Was Negligent in His Defense.
Judge Crow in the Superior Court at Santa Barbara, yesterday, decided Joseph E. Seymour of this city, who acted as attorney for George Figueroa, the "tiger man" convicted of wife murder, in his effort to collect $2500 for legal services.

L. U. Stone, as attorney of Seymour, brought suit at Santa Barbara against A. M. Figueroa, father of the murderer, for the amount, but the latter resisted.

The court, in its decision, stated the case had been so negligently conducted by Seymour as to have been practically valueless to the prisoner and denied the claim for services. Figueroa was accused of having murdered his wife at Santa Monica about a year ago. His family lives at Santa Barbara.

BOY SHOT WHILE MAKING AN EFFORT TO ESCAPE.

WHITTIER, March 7.—As the result of a bold dash for liberty at an early hour this morning Emil Traynack, an inmate of Whittier State school, lies at the California Hospital with a bullet hole through his chest, while his companion, Fred Morris, who escaped with him, is still at large.

The two boys, who are considered among the toughest characters in the institution, made good their escape at about 4:30 o'clock this morning, while the officer in charge had left them for a few minutes to go to another part of the building to wake the breakfast boys and cooks.

Taking a piece of timber from a scaffold, which had been used in making some repairs on the building, the boys smashed a heavy screen and escaped through a window. The officer, whose carelessness made the escape of the two boys possible, and whose name the superintendent would not divulge, was forced to resign.

The boys had been gone but a short time when they were missed and the alarm turned in, but all attempts of the State school officers to find their trail failed, owing to the darkness. When news of the escape of the boys was heard, between Los Angeles and Alhambra. At this place the boys turned on a constable who was in pursuit of them, showed him plentifully with rocks and attempted to club those assisting him. It was in this mix-up that Traynack was shot by the constable. Officer Bascom of the school, soon arrived and had the boy removed to the County Hospital. Superintendent Nellis has had guards taken to the California Hospital. While the constable and posse assisting him were caring for Traynack, Morris succeeded in stealing the constable's horse and buggy and making away with it.

At the Catholic cemetery, at the city limits of Los Angeles, the pursuers had gained so rapidly that the boy was forced to abandon the rig and flee through the cemetery. He evaded the officers and is still at large, while a score of officers are searching the city for him.

In speaking of the affair, Superintendent Nellis stated that he was not surprised by the affair and expected that other attempts to escape would be made by the boys in the near future.

He also stated that this would not interfere with his plans for self government, which he proposes to put into operation in the institution. Traynack, it is thought, is not dangerously injured, and will probably be brought back here in a few days.

MORRIS was committed two years ago from San Bernardino county, and is an escapee from an eastern school. Traynack was committed six years ago from Calaveras.

SUGGESTION FINDS FAVOR.

South Pasadena May Construct Sewer System as It Paves Boulevard to Save Future Trouble.
SOUTH PASADENA, March 7.—South Pasadena has taken up with enthusiasm the suggestion that the installation of a complete sewer system in the streets should go hand in hand with the improvements of the streets by paving along the lines which are being worked out by the Board of Trustees, and at the suggestion of John D. Reavis, chairman of the Inter-city Commission, who saw the feasibility of building this complete sewerage system in anticipation of the construction of an outfall sewer to the ocean.

In this way it would be unnecessary to tear up the pavements which are to be installed in the near future. It is generally conceded among the residents that this is the solution for the difficulties and objections which have been standing in the way of street improvements. The necessity for this outfall sewer has been emphasized by the result of private investigations into the Los Angeles outfall, which, on good authority, was stated, had already reached the limit of its capacity, and that the handling of Los Angeles sewage is about to become a vital one again. It is pointed out that the inter-city sewer would have a better slope than that of Los Angeles, and could easily be made capable of taking care of the entire territory for which it is designed.

POLICIANS HAVE TROUBLE.
Promoters of Roosevelt Johnson Club Buffeted by Adversity in Search of Hall.

ONTARIO, March 7.—The enthusiasm of a few overzealous progressives who had planned to form what they termed the "Roosevelt Johnson and Johnson club" for the western end of San Bernardino county in this city, tonight was somewhat dampened, when, at the eleventh hour, they were forbidden the use of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce building, as originally planned.

President W. A. Freemire of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, himself identified with the Roosevelt Johnson club, had granted the committee

Polo at Coronado.

PASADENA SWAMPS THE SANTA BARBARA TEAM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—With two of the best players of the present polo tournament at Coronado disabled as a result of yesterday's fast and reckless match between Pasadena and Santa Barbara, the entire schedule has been rearranged and considerable confusion now exists.
At the last moment this afternoon it was found necessary to substitute the first round for the California cup for the match, which had been announced earlier. Santa Barbara was pitted against the Pasadena four.
Pasadena proved by far the best team and won by a score of 14 goals to 2 goals. This is the largest polo score ever made in a match on the Coronado field and could have been made larger if the victory desired. Santa Barbara's lack of aggressiveness caused their defeat. The Pasadena players were always ready and constantly on the aggressive.
The teams lined up as follows: Santa Barbara—J. Borden, 1; W. Leadbetter, 2; J. Towne, 3; Dr. E. J. Boesche, back.
Pasadena—Elmer Boesche, 1; W. Weiss, 2; H. Parks, 3; T. Weiss, back.
Parks was substituted on the Pasadena team for Harry Weiss, who was unexpectedly called to Los Angeles.
The American Polo Association today telegraphed a protest against W. Deveraux taking the place of M. Collins O. Ross on the Canadian team. The second round for the California cup is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. The match will be between San Mateo and Canada. Some trouble is being experienced in selecting the teams and the line-up will probably not be agreed upon before tomorrow.

Clash at Claremont.

POMONA HUNS TACKLE U.S.C. BRAVES TOMORROW.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

NERO's greatest gladiatorial meet in the days of ancient Rome will have nothing on the soul-stirring clash tomorrow afternoon between the U.S.C. Trojans and the Pomona Huns, on Alumni Field, Claremont. This famous old field has been the scene of many a thrilling battle in the past, but the meet Saturday bids fair to eclipse any relic recorded on the pages of the athletic history of the South.
The University of Southern California is going to move bag and baggage to the village of Claremont in order to be behind their knights of the cinder in the strife. At Pomona they are going to suspend student activities from noon today until the final score of the meet is written on the big register. Old grads are coming from far and near to witness what promises to be the banner event of the intercollegiate season.
The star men from each college in the events will have to perform according to Hoyle, while the second and third place men will have as much depending on them this time as the star. Coach Stanton of Pomona and Coach Cromwell of U.S.C. have been working night and day during the past week to develop their dark meet. Yesterday the writer had fifteen of these mathematical brainstorms flashed on him, only to find that each and every one put the winning colors down with a margin of but two points. A single dope sheet is scarcely worth the paper it is written on, but when fifteen estimates, all averaging practically the same result, come in, then is the time to begin to take a little notice.

The reason that these dope sheets show that Pomona or U.S.C. will win or lose by so small a margin lies in the fact that the outcome of the meet can and does hinge on several events where the competition will be keen and very close. This is a track meet where a second or a third place man win or lose for either of the institutions.
SECONDS AND THIRDS COUNT.
The star men from each college in the events will have to perform according to Hoyle, while the second and third place men will have as much depending on them this time as the star. Coach Stanton of Pomona and Coach Cromwell of U.S.C. have been working night and day during the past week to develop their dark horses to take these second and third points and at the present reading of the minutes it looks as though every time U.S.C. took a first, Pomona would be there for second and third place, and vice versa.

It can readily be seen by this line of argument that the points will be close from the first gun to the last and the final result will very likely depend upon the relay or one of the last events of the day. The men from the two colleges who will meet in the various events of the day are in almost every case as evenly matched as the most ardent fan could desire. Up to the present time the athletes who will carry the Pomona colors have not been definitely set down, but yesterday

HOGAN NOT TO BE A REGULAR.

Eddie Maier Says He Is to Be Bench Manager.

Hap Denies This and Says He Will Be in Game.

Killilay and Joe Walsh Are Holding Out.

BY GARY OLIVER.

Hap Hogan is not to be the regular catcher on the Vernon team this season.

"Sure, I am to catch regularly this year," declared Hap yesterday, when asked about this delicate question, but some other fellow says he is not to catch unless he wants to.

The other fellow is Eddie Maier, president of the Vernon team, and he owns the majority of the stock of the Tiger team and can fire about hire just about whom he pleases. Hap wants to it is very near a cinch that Hap will not catch.

"If you print that kind of a story, you will be wrong," gasped the ever-verbose Hap, but whenever Hap says you can guess that the story does not mean that he is dying of rage or mortification.

Of course Hogan won't have it this way, but there is no more need for him behind the bat than there is for me, and there does not seem to be any petitions in circulation to catch for Vernon or pitch either.

The Vernons have Sullivan, Brown and Agnew as catchers in addition to Hap and just why the club should want to have a new catcher every day is something that gets me. Agnew is the best prospect for a catcher that I have seen here for many months, and I fail to see how Hogan can pass him up, while Brown and Sullivan are experienced men who cannot be thrown aside. What Hap wants to do with three good catchers and himself on the team is something I cannot not guess. This is the hardest problem I am he has to solve this year.

HOW STEWART TRAINS.
"I got myself into shape the winter," said Stewart yesterday, shoveling snow off the sidewalks in Dayton, O. Has anyone anything better to offer than this for getting into condition?

MYERS NOT READY.

Hap Myers, formerly of the Vernon team, is supposed to go to Los Angeles City this year with Jack Killilay, but neither of them are on their way. Myers is in San Diego and Killilay is in this city working out with the Vernon team every day. Killilay could go any place if he wanted to, for he has his transportation. Furthermore, he has turned his contract resigned, as he thought he was not given enough money. The Vernon team is to train in Bermuda, for which foreign country it is to start on March 15. "I may join 'em when they return from there," he says, and then he snags not.

WALSH WAITING.

Catcher Joe Walsh of the New York Americans, who was sold last season to Toledo, is still in this street and is likely to remain here for some time, as he has received no contract. He was loaned to Columbus.

Thirty Days from Now.

SEES EARLY END OF MEXICAN REVOLUTION.

UIS TERRAZZA for many years Governor of the State of Chihuahua under the Diaz regime, and the largest individual land owner in the state. He has three daughters, a dozen members of his family, and a retinue of servants, arrived in Los Angeles late Wednesday. He has an office floor at the Van Nuys and is interviewed by the Associated Press. Senator Terraza referred all interviewers to his son, Alberto. His family is sufficiently developed so that foreign money is not necessary. "We do not look for intervention by any outside power in Mexico. I cannot see how it could be. Intervention ends it will not be long before the former prosperity of the country is restored."

The Terraza family is one of the oldest in Mexico. Luis Terrazas was closely associated with Diaz in a military capacity for more than thirty years. He is 82 years old and is in

"I am not taking any part in the business," declared Alameda, "and of which side wins, we do not expect to suffer financial losses."

"It is my personal opinion that the stock market will rise within thirty days. I am not predicting the victor. In fact I do not care to discuss the question. It is my duty to advise you that you must be cautious in the matter for you and I must be excused."

While there has been a large dropping off of American and European capital in Mexico as a result of the revolution, I think that our countrymen are still engaged in almost every occupation, from mining to merchandising, and at one time practically all the peons of Chihuahua were in their employ.

MANAGEMENT OF BANK IS SEVERELY CRITICISED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERFIELD, March 7. — [Exclusive Dispatch.] Sensational charges against both R. McDonald and H. A. Biedget in their respective management of the Kern Valley Bank were contained in evidence offered yesterday in the Sunset Oil Company bond foreclosure suit.

The bank appealed to Tervis for aid and a compromise was effected by which the stockholders were to place in the bank their note for $105,000 in lieu of ninety-five of the Sunset Oil bonds, and the bank agreed to pay to McDonald and Tervis take care of another ninety-five bonds. Five of the stockholders signed the note.

A letter from Bank Superintendent Alden Anderson, written to McDonald in August, 1929, stated that an examination of the bank's affairs showed that it was carrying unsecured loans and overdrafts amounting to $170,000, that the bank had been running at a loss of more than $400 per month for six months and that Cashier McDonald had lost $31,900 in receiving deposits, and that the bank was receiving per cent. interest on against 4 per cent. paid to other depositors. Anderson criticised the large amount of bonds which the bank was carrying on its books at par and directed that they be estimated at 75 per cent. of their face value in the reference made up. This estimate would more than wipe out the entire capital of the bank.
